BETTER THAN TWENTY POUND
AVERAGE FOR FRANKLIN

ENOUGH ROCK IN ANOTHER
WEEK FOR ALLOUEZ LODGE MILL TEST.

The drift on the 32nd level of Franklin in the Altona conglomerate has been extended for 46 feet, and there has accumulated practically half the tonnage which will be necessary for the test at the Centennial mill. In another week, it is expected, the full 1,000 tons will have been taken out. Thus far there has been no diminution in the width or richness of the lode.

President Edwards states that the rock is ideal for milling, but points out that it is not to be expected that the mill tests will result in a refined copper recovery as high as shown by the assays. These run better than 26 pounds to the ton, but in the actual milling of the rock the losses in the tailings must be reckoned with. President Edwards believes that the rock which has thus far been taken from the lode will run well above 20 pounds of refined to the ton, but states that even as low as 20 pounds could be satisfactory. In this connection it is pointed out that Franklin can break even handling 500 tons of 12-pound rock per day on the copper so that everything in excess of 12 pounds would be "net."

Provided the mill tests show up as well as Superintendent Edwards believes, the next important move will be to find the extent of lode within the Franklin boundaries, which will be done through cross-sections laid above and below the 32nd level.

MEET HOUGHTON SEVEN.

Hancock Independents Will Play Last Hockey Game Tonight.

What will probably be the last game of hockey for the season will be played at the Amphidrome this evening between the Hancock seven and the Portage Lake Juniors. Manager McNamara of the Amphidrome announced the ice is still in excellent condition and skating will be indulged in after the game.

The two teams met early in the season and the Hancock septet came out victorious. Of late, however, the Houghton squad has strengthened its line up and will attempt to turn the tables on the local seven tonight. The two teams will appear on the ice as follows:

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets. These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O. All druggists—Advertiser.

SENIORS ORDER PINS.

Members of Graduating Class Split on Question of Emblems.

After some discussion and division of opinion as to whether or not they should have class pins, the members of the graduating class of the Hancock high school have finally come to a decision on the subject. It has been agreed that the girls of the class will have class pins and the boys will go through life without a class emblem. Many of the boys did not like the idea of purchasing pins, believing that fobs or rings were more appropriate, but they finally gave way to the young ladies.

A committee recently selected a pin in the form of a shield with a circular ring of gold containing the letters "H. C. H." and figures "14" on it.

HUHTA HEARING TOMORROW.

Examinations of Alleged Murderers
Will Be Continued.

John Huhta, former secretary of the South Range local of the Western Federation of Miners, who confessed to the shooting of William Dally and the Jane brothers at Painesdale, December 7, and Nick Verbanac, Halmer Jallonen and Joseph Juntinen, all alleged murder perpetrators will be arraigned before Justice Eichhorn tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The first hearing of Huhta, was held in Justice Eichhorn's court two weeks ago and adjourned to allow the transcription of testimony.

OPERATION SUCCESSFUL.

Mrs. Sophie Rantola was operated on successfully recently when a piece of needle was removed from her hand by Dr. N. S. MacDonald of Calumet. The needle became lodged in her hand about 15 years ago, a portion of the steel breaking off and entering in the bone in the palm. She suffered no pain until recently and it was suggested that an operation was the only remedy which would bring her relief.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE OUT.

The petition of F. C. Martindale, secretary of state and candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of Michigan, was received in Hancock this morning. The petition was circulated and there was no difficulty in securing signatures.

Connie Mack's Philadelphia champions are playing in tip-top form this early in the season and other American league managers are beginning to sit up and take notice. The Mackmen are a hard outfit to beat.

The Australian game has been so soft for Ed McGorty that Jimmy Clabby has decided to try his luck in the Antipodes. Jimmy sails for "down yonder" early next month.

AT THE LENTEN
DANCING CLASS

Milady Is Alert Not Only to Acquire the New Steps, but to Discover the Latest Winkle In Tango Carbing.

EVEN during Lenten moods and matrons have continued their gyrations, relieving their consciences of responsibility by claiming that they danced for their health's sake. Certainly the modern woman does require some sort of strenuous exercise to keep her figure to the slimness required by the fashionable gown. While milady does not attend entertainments, she patronizes the smart dancing class, which is, of course, a different matter. To this she may wear her prettiest frock and frolic to her heart's content and put the responsibility on the soul of the dancing master or mistress. Thus in her semi-retirement she may extend her knowledge of tango steps and perfect her agility in the mazes of the dance that will be publicly in full swing as soon as Easter has passed.

In her Lenten leisure the society woman is also adding to her stock of dancing frocks or having them renovated. She knows that now is her opportunity to secure the smartest and most novel creations. Half a dozen dancing frocks for the season are by no means too many for the wardrobe of the woman who is a devotee of tango. There are two sorts of frocks dainty—afternoon models and models intended for evening wear. Sometimes the only difference between the two seems to be in the length of sleeve and in the foot and headgear worn with the costume, for a hat usually accompanies the afternoon dancing frock, whereas in the evening the hair is ornamented with some sort of coquettish coiffure ornament.

In the afternoon also smart little buttoned boots that may make brief appearance in the street accompany the dainty frock, and in the evening slippers are the proper footwear for the ballroom.

Dainty boots for afternoon wear with frocks daintier are the prettiest things imaginable. High, curved heels, trim lines and the thinnest of turned soles make them most becoming to the foot, and the buttoned tops have a smart correctness, giving the proper afternoon effect, yet being made of such exquisitely soft kid that the movement of the ankle is not constricted in the least.

Dainty gloves, attractive ornaments, handsome stockings, smart shoes and pretty lingerie are all demanded by the well dressed woman, and there is a distinct preference for the bizarre, as may be noted by the vogue for hosiery embroidered in birds, butterflies or small animals.

The popularity of dancing makes the fan again an important feature of the fashionable woman's costume. Jeweled fans are beyond the means of most of us, but there are charming and tasteful fans which can be purchased for a moderate sum. The tiny personal touch which the clever woman may apply to even the plainest fan gives it an especial note of chic. If she can paint a dainty pattern applied in water colors with a work of art. The woman who cannot paint will find plenty of attractive designs for stenciling. Bits of old lace are invaluable. They may be sent to the fan makers and mounted either alone or in combination with other fabrics.

Some modish fans are shown here. The upper one is a costly creation of old paint lace on a jeweled mount. The one below it illustrates the popularity of ostrich feathers. The fan is carried out in shades of gray. Beneath it is a new art creation of quaint shape and adorned with conventionalized flowers of the school futurist. The other fan is of shaded net outlined with ribbon velvet. It bears the owner's monogram in gold.

DAINTY NEW LINGERIE.

Some of the prettiest new under-clothes have casings of net and net fills.

Boudoir caps are worn with any type of negligee dress, from bed jacket to tea gown.

Negligees of chiffon, crepe de chine or net are handsomely trimmed.

Embroidery with colored dots is one of the features of novelty underclothes. The colors are not delicate, but strong.

The dominant feature of the newest lingerie is the long, graceful line from shoulder to sandal. It is caught up here and there or slashed at the sides or front.

The petticoat is being replaced by a half petticoat or demi-drop skirt at tacked to the waistband with the outer skirt. Soft crepe de chine, surah, muslin and china silk are used for these.

Tailored Linen Gown.
The linen frock is always an important matter with the summer girl. The new models show many novel touches.

Short coats are the rule, and tulle of feet are favored. The gown illustrated here is of mandarin yellow linen embroidered in green in a handsome openwork pattern. The tabs on the dainty collar of plaited chiffon are exceedingly modish and attractive. With the gown a worn a coquettish hat of Panama straw.

Dep Grod will begin his open-air season in Savannah in a few weeks.
